Background Information

Why Permits?

Permits are here for your protection. The major benefit of obtaining a permit is knowing that your project will conform to the safety standards that have been adopted under the Safety Codes Act and that the appearance and use is consistent with the context of your neighbourhood.

What Permits are Required?

If you are planning a new development, renovations to an existing property or changing the use of a current building, you may require permits from the City of Beaumont. Depending on the type of construction, you may need to apply for different types of permits. Some of the permits that may be required are:

Development Permit

A development permit ensures that the location, size and use of a building comply with the Beaumont Land Use Bylaw. Development permits and approvals need to be obtained for new construction, renovations, and changes to how a building is being used.

- All properties within the City of Beaumont are zoned and that zoning determines the type of building and what use is allowed.
- To determine the development regulations for your property first, find your property's zoning designation using our Land Use Bylaw Map

Building Permit

While development permits regulate your property's appearance and use in the context of your neighbourhood, building permits make sure that what you build is actually safe. City building permits make sure that construction on your property is up to Alberta Building Code standards. Many projects require both a development and a building permit.

Additional Permits

Additional permits regulate the utilities servicing a property. This includes the water and sewer lines, interior plumbing, gas, air conditioning, and electricity. If any construction includes this type of work, separate permits may be required and are applied for separately.

- Separate permits are issued for each type of work that is being completed. This includes Plumbing, Gas, and Electrical.
- Every building, plumbing, gas and electrical permit requires payment of a safety code fee, which is collected on behalf of the Safety Codes Council. The safety code fee is calculated as 4% of the total permit cost with a minimum of $4.50 to a maximum of $560.

What Services Do I Get With My Permit?

Services will include, but are not limited to:

- A plan review and report
- Technical advice
- Site inspections reports
- Final status report
